Carlo Acutis was born in London on May 3, 1991. In September of 1991 he and his family moved to Milan, Italy. Even though his parents were not very religious, he became a practicing Catholic at a very young age. Like all Catholics, he believed that Jesus is present in the Eucharist and being in his presence was a very special part of Carlo's faith life. Because of his devotion to the Eucharist he received his First Holy Communion as soon as he was able.

At school in Milan, Carlo was like most kids, but he was especially sensitive to the needs of those around him, particularly with those who were struggling. In his neighborhood, Carlo was concerned with those less fortunate and tried to help them as often as he was able.

Carlo was considered somewhat of a computer nerd and spent a good amount of time on the computer, PlayStation or with comics. He was very skilled with computers and computer coding, so he took his love of the Eucharist and his love of computer programming and built his own website. The website documented the Eucharistic Miracles from all over the world. He completed the entire website at the age of 11!

At the age of 15 Carlo Acutis was diagnosed with Leukemia. Even though he was in excruciating pain his faith never faltered. He continue to preach his love of the Eucharist. In his last days he continued to think of others, saying, "there are people who suffer much more than me". Carlo died on October 12, 2006. On October 10, 2020, at the Basilica of St. Francis of Assisi, Italy, Carlo was beatified and September 7th 2025 he was canonized by Pope Leo XIV. His body lies in a glass tomb – displayed in jeans and a pair of Nikes, the casual clothes he preferred in life – at St. Mary Major in Assissi, Italy.
